Absoft Chooses Avantra for SAP$^{\circledR}$ Landscape AIOps and IT Operation Automation

Avantra is delighted to announce that Absoft has become the latest business to adopt Avantra's industry-leading AIOps, and automation platform for SAP to transform IT Operations for its customers' SAP systems, helping them to improve the business experience, performance, and compliance.

Absoft, a dedicated SAP consultancy offering implementation, cloud services, application, and technical managed services to SAP customers, looked for a solution that;

- Automates SAP build and run operations.

- Enables them to offer customers greater transparency of complete SAP landscape health and performance.

- Helps them move to proactive problem and performance management.

- Will become a foundation for growth that supports the nature of strategically important and highly integrated SAP landscapes.

An important factor in the decision to adopt Avantra is Absoft's focus on helping customers migrate to SAP on cloud, including its partnership with Microsoft for SAP on Azure services. Avantra helps Absoft and its customers to achieve a "single pane of glass" view across SAP systems, on-premise and cloud, adding value both before and after the migration to cloud.

Absoft is well underway with the adoption of Avantra and deployment to all of its customer environments in 2020. Absoft plans to make Avantra a foundational element of its future service.

Robert Macdonald, Absoft's Innovation and Technology Manager, says: "Absoft has long provided its clients with a comprehensive technical monitoring service and has been ahead of the curve in that respect. The decision to implement Avantra is reflective of that overall approach, allowing us to proactively monitor our clients' business processes and ensure our support is fully aligned with their day-to-day operational needs."

Tom Kelly, UK&I Sales Director at Avantra, added: "We're delighted that Absoft has chosen Avantra as a foundational element to their service. Their ambition in the market and vision for automated SAP managed services fits well with Avantra's vision for intelligent, self-healing enterprise and we're excited to be part of their exciting plans for the future."
